https://image.lexica.art/md2_webp/90d40cb0-5425-492a-9de8-40a7957126ff) Last week I didn't put up an Africa update because Dustin was at a Farming God's Way convention in Kampala for six days. The ladies and that I had a fairly successful and relatively low-stress time together. This was our first time alone without Dustin for that lengthy. About an hour after he stepped out the door the gasoline for our fuel burner ran out. Our electricity was also out, so we had no way to cook. Called Dustin and the disaster was averted after Dustin referred to as a pal who came and stuffed up the tank for us! That night I determined to plug in our bug zapper. Somehow it was plugged in without the additional converter we wanted. I believed I'd killed the bug zapper! Thankfully the sunshine bulbs had simply blown, so I didn't completely fry it. Our pet additionally obtained sick that week after another pet on our compound had just lately died.

Our pet sadly died that Saturday-I'll spare you all the small print. "It's okay mommy. The pet is in heaven now and can play with the opposite pet and the opposite canines in heaven can take care of them." She's a sensible cookie that one. Why does every part occur when daddy's away! But actually, over all issues went effectively. It was good for Zap Zone Defender Experience me to feel like I used to be managing and in some cases thriving in our new setting with the girls. It felt good to assist Dustin in his growth and let him be assured that issues back at house weren't completely falling apart while he was gone! Dustin is back dwelling now and we're undoubtedly glad! This last week has been a low stress, laid again week with a number of family time. Thanks for all of your continued prayers and support! For anyone that would like to receive a quarterly e-mail updates on what we are doing here in Uganda and the projects that Dustin is engaged on, Zap Zone Defender please subscribe to our newsletter right here. Now enjoy these adorable photos of the ladies!
