Preventive care is important because cavities, gum issues and tooth wear can develop over time without obvious pain at first. Dental Sealants can help protect chewing surfaces from cavity-causing buildup, especially on back teeth with deep grooves. Root Canals may be recommended when tooth pain, infection or deep decay affects the inside of a tooth. Tooth Extractions may be needed when a tooth cannot be saved, is badly damaged or creates a risk for other dental problems. Dental Group of Chicago focuses on clear explanations, practical recommendations and treatment options that fit the patient's needs. Dental care is not only about fixing problems. It is also about helping patients feel informed, supported and more confident about their oral health. Whether the need is a routine exam, cavity prevention, root canal therapy or an extraction, the right dental team can help patients protect their smiles.(Image: https://i.ytimg.com/vi/dW6Lc\_gxyjE/hq720.jpg)
